

UNCHAIN YOUR ASSETS

Keep Your Cash Flow Flowing

Over 80% of U.S. commercial collection accounts each year are placed with CCAA certified member agencies.

Did you know that 27% of accounts three months past due will never be collected? That number rises to 44% for accounts six months past due. Can your business afford to wait for a payment that may never arrive?

Let us, a Commercial Collection Agency Association (CCAA) member agency, certified by the Commercial Law League of America (CLLA), help you recover the maximum dollar amount on your past due accounts. Our certification is your assurance that we will adhere to a strict code of ethics and meets the rigorous standards established by the CLLA, the oldest and most respected creditors' rights organization in the country.

Just a few of the benefits you will enjoy when using a CCAA certified member agency:

- Professional practices to help attain maximum dollar recovery
- Reputable collection procedures to maintain your customers' good will
- Fees based solely on results
- Maintenance of trust accounts for collected funds
- Prompt remittance of funds to creditors
- Minimum $300,000 surety bond for your protection.
